Documents F2 and F3 are published in the German language. Document F2 is published with an English language abstract and appears to discuss a flooring which allegedly causes substantially no emissions producing unpleasant smells or unhealthy emissions, which does not change color due to age, and which is produced by a process using an elastomer based on a polyolefine with a density of 0.918 g/cm<sup>3</sup> acting as the polymer binding agent.

Document F3 appears to relate to process for producing a web-like covering material from a concentrated mixture of rubber components using an endless traveling conveyor belt. An English language abstract from the related international application for Document F3 is provided as Document D2 (English Abstract for published German language PCT application WO9514564A1, which claims priority to document F3).

It is respectfully requested that the Examiner initial and return a copy of the enclosed PTO-1449 and to indicate in the official file wrapper of the above-identified patent application that each item of the cited information has been considered.
